NEW GLITTERBUG SHINES ON!

GlitterBug® Online ::::

Please join Brevis Corporation as we go green!

We are making the leap to go green, meaning we are using our online presence more and printing on paper less. What does that mean for our valued customers? No more expensive printed catalogs! And we'll pass the savings on to you.

For years, we've spent many thousands of dollars on catalogs several times annually, but now we are going to be doing our catalog printing virtually and making them available in a PDF format on the brevis.com website. Of course you can print it out if you still prefer to have a paper document to peruse.

The decision to stop printing catalogs is not a decision we took lightly, but our research indicates that most of our customers prefer to view our products and order online at brevis.com. And, while we'll undoubtedly miss the nostalgic charm of the old catalogs, convenience and economy win the day.

You'll also be seeing our website grow and change in the coming months. Dr. Gordon Short, our founder and mentor, has started weighing in on our new blog. Check out Dr. Short's thoughts about pathogens, epidemics, pandemics and more at brevis.com/blog. Further, you can follow us on Google Plus, LinkedIn and YouTube to stay abreast of our activities.

We appreciate your business and hope using a digital catalog and our website makes your job simpler. Of course we'll still be available by phone and fax to take orders and provide customer service. If you see ways we can make our website friendlier and more useful, please feel free to offer suggestions via the website, email us at info@brevis.com or call us at 1.800.383.3377. We welcome your input!
